About us

Llewellyn Consulting is an independent economics advisory firm, based in the City of London.

We specialise in strategic top-down macroeconomic analysis and thought leadership. We focus on longer-term drivers, policy, and political issues, and provide early insight into key developments, turning points, risk, and market implications.

We operate with a core team and a network of associates, recognised experts, and business partners, who work with us project-by-project.

We serve our clients through a bespoke range of services and subscription-based research. Our clients span the financial services sector, government, and industry, and generally work with us on a retainer basis.

Distinguishing features: Experience; unbiased and uncorrelated research; strong connections with senior policymakers and decision makers; involvement of our senior people throughout all projects; experienced in working constructively with in-house teams; communication in plain, clear English; total trust, discretion, and confidentiality.

Our bespoke services

- Research and analysis – from data analysis and slide packs to notes, short papers, and major studies.
- Strategic advice – at all levels, and with stand-by access, from corporate planners and analysts to CEOs.
- Thought leadership – independent thinking to assist organisations in their outward-facing activities.
- Conferences, seminars, and roundtables – organising and hosting (including joint hosting).
- Speaking engagements – presenting at/participating in client events, incl. chairmanship and moderation.
- Board membership and attendance – in accordance with needs.
- Litigation support and expert witness – advising in legal disputes, from early case assessment through to resolution; expert opinion, reports, and testimony; attending legal hearings.

Our bespoke work has been grouped into the following areas:

Regional economic studies	Economic policy	Finance and investment	Infrastructure
Climate change	Energy and land use	Ageing and demographics	Technology

For examples of our bespoke research, click here.

Our subscription-based services

Well-researched, tightly-edited, regular pieces on themes and issues of current or prospective national, regional, or global significance. Extending beyond high-frequency commentary, these often challenge consensus thinking.

- The product range: Global Letter (1 page); Comment (1-3 pages); Economic Risks (1 page); Focus (4+ pages); Postcard (1 page); Chart of the month.
- The service includes invitations to our quarterly conference calls, annual conference, & periodic seminars.

Current areas of research include:

Monetary and fiscal policy	Structural policy	Technology and AI	Energy and the environment	Ageing and demography
Trumponomics, the US, and beyond	Asia and Japan	Brexit, the UK, and beyond	Europe	The Middle East

For A selection of our research, click here. ■